

West Virginia University at Parkersburg Position Vacancy
Child Development Faculty
Position #21-035

West Virginia University at Parkersburg is seeking applications for a Child Development faculty member within the Education division. The position will be effective beginning with the Fall semester in August 2021. This is a nine-month, renewable term appointment.

RESPONSIBILITIES: This appointment will include a 15-credit hour teaching load per semester in Child Development. Other college level courses may also be assigned depending on the selected candidate's credentials. The majority of instructional duties will be at the main campus in Parkersburg, but may also include the instruction of classes at the Jackson County Center in Ripley. Teaching assignments may include evening, weekend, hybrid and/or totally on-line instruction. In addition, duties may include academic advising, committee service, program support, student recruitment/retention and professional development. West Virginia University at Parkersburg values creativity, individuality and innovation, and expects the selected candidate to actively participate in the college community.

REQUIREMENTS:

- A Master's degree in child development, early childhood education, curriculum and instruction, educational psychology, elementary education or related field from a recognized, regionally accredited college or university.
- Alternatively, a Master's degree with at least 18 semester hours of graduate credit in child development, early childhood education, curriculum and instruction, educational psychology or elementary education.
- Successful college-level teaching experience is preferred, as well as aptitude for using technology in instructional delivery, and a willingness to deliver courses online.
- Demonstration of teaching effectiveness is part of the interview process.

EFFECTIVE: Fall Semester - August 2021.

RATE OF PAY: Entry-level pay for this position is $37,564.00 per year. Salary and rank are commensurate with education and experience.

POSTED DATE: May 14, 2021
